

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA 94720-3840

October 16, 2015

As faculty of the UC Berkeley Mathematics Department, we are committed to taking an active role in maintaining a safe and inclusive workplace, free of sexual harassment. We feel that the University procedures currently in place fail to protect our students from sexual harassment, and allow perpetrators to remain in positions of authority and trust on campus, with minimal sanctions. The recent case of Prof. Geoff Marcy serves to illustrate this failure. The ineffectiveness of the current system has had devastating consequences for students and other vulnerable community members. We ask the UC administration to work with faculty and students to develop a transparent process in which cases of harassment and assault can be reported and dealt with in an effective manner, with meaningful sanctions when warranted.

Sincerely,

Mina Aganagic

Ian Agol

Denis Auroux

George Bergman

Robert Bryant

Alexandre Chorin

Michael Christ

Jim Demmel

David Eisenbud

Craig Evans

Alberto Grunbaum

Ming Gu

Alan Hammond

Jenny Harrison

Olga Holtz

Michael Hutchings

Richard Karp

Tsit-Yuen Lam

Lin Lin

Antonio Montalban

David Nadler

Martin Olsson

Lior Pachter

Per-Olof Persson

Jim Pitman

Charles Pugh

Nicolai Reshetikhin

Fraydoun Rezakhanlou

Ken Ribet

Tom Scanlon

James Sethian

Vivek Shende

Sug Woo Shin

Ted Slaman

Robert Solovay

Nikhil Srivastava

John Steel

Bernd Sturmfels

Peter Teichner

Paul Vojta

Katrin Wehrheim

Alan Weinstein

Jon Wilkening

Lauren Williams

Hugh Woodin

Hung-Hsi Wu

Xinyi Yuan